

I would very much like to support this comment. I might add that in the future digital knowledge is going to be very important in any field of electronics and therefore should be stressed in future extra class tests.